

Cameron Cobb ~~Shark~~ Facts

Get to know Cameron and why she's the type of person to create a digital factsheet about herself using a Canva template titled "Sharks Fact in Black Illustrative Design"!

FACT #1: Professional Planet Saver (Results May Vary)

Chose to study Global Sustainability because nothing says "optimism" like trying to fix climate change with a master's degree while Florida slowly melts into the ocean.

Spoiler alert: The ice caps are winning.

FACT #2: Survived South Dakota (Barely)

Joined the Air Force for adventure and world travel. Got stationed in South Dakota, where I spent the majority of my enlistment outside in -30° weather as an aircraft mechanic. Plot twist: the frozen tundra actually sparked a lifelong wanderlust. Stockholm Syndrome, but make it geographical.

FACT #3: Professional Tourist

Visited 40 countries & counting, even when it meant (fun) writing feature articles or (not as fun) working as a luggage loader during the peak heat of summer in the Sunshine State in exchange for free worldwide travel (I mean, not that I totally wasn't interested in making minimum wage).

FACT #4: Multi-Pet Household CEO

Successfully manages a household of two dogs (named Maggie & Rajah) plus two cats (named Tortilla & Rocket). The cats are middle management; the dogs handle customer relations; I deal with apologizing to visitors about why there's so much pet hair everywhere.

FACT #5: First Woman Veteran Editor-in-Chief

Broke the glass ceiling at the Joint Special Operations University as their first woman veteran Editor-in-Chief. Managed a full team of staff along with a $250K budget without buying a single unnecessary font subscription (a true miracle...just know that I was tempted).

FACT #6: Content Creation Shapeshifter

Can seamlessly transform from technical writer to social media manager to journalist to marketing guru, depending on what the day demands. I'm like chameleon with over a decade of experience (and perhaps better grammar & faster typing speed).

FACT #7: Pandemic Communications Specialist (Timing Is Everything)

Joined NIAID in July 2020, just in time for the world's most stressful group project of crisis communications throughout the global spread of COVID-19. Spent years translating "We're all doomed" into "Everything is going to be okay, please wash your hands."

FACT #8: National Geographic Superfan

Owens more National Geographic magazines than storage space. Still convinced this counts as "networking" with potential employers. Please hire me, yellow border people...I'm running out of shelves.
